

ARMY OF WOMEN GETS 200,000 IN RED CROSS RALLY

Banker's Daughter Leads
Workers in First Day's Drive for Million Members.

New York City capitulated without a protest yesterday to the third Red Cross Roll Call. When bedtime closed the first day's activities of the army of workers hurried against the strategic points of every borough, the campaign was well on its way toward its goal of "one million membership from Greater New York."

Reports to headquarters revealed enthusiasm everywhere in support of the American Red Cross and what it stands for. The first day's attack was aimed at the city's business centers.

The biggest day's work, judged by financial returns, was that of Miss Alice Davidson, eighteen-year-old daughter of Henry P. Davidson, who emerged from a descent on the J. P. Morgan offices with memberships which yielded $2,274, garnered from her father, Charles H. Rubin, Dwight W. Morrow, Cornelius N. Bliss and Charles Steele.

Miss Flora Payne Whitney, Mrs. Stewart Walker and twelve others equally enthusiastic, were busy in other offices. As one of them emerged from an encounter with financiers who was surrounded by thirty messenger boys, each with $1 for a membership certificate.

The formal opening took place on the steps of the Sub-Treasury, Martin Stogel, Assistant Treasurer of the United States, presiding. The center of the stage was held by Mrs. Apple and her Red Cross dog, Aro, a French poodle.

Addresses were delivered by Major Arthur Bice, Royal Welsh Fusiliers, Governor of Colorado after the occupation; Arthur Lynch, M. P. Miss Marion Holden and Mrs. Alice McMay Kelley, overseas workers. Among those selling memberships were Miss Beatrice Byrne, Miss Lella Emery, Miss Audrey Emery, Miss Shelia Byrne, Miss Anne Moffatt, Miss Beth Martin, Miss Elsie Everett, Miss Dorothy Kane and Miss Emily Hammon.

Joseph S. Marcus, President of the Bank of the United States and Chairman of the East Side Division, turned over to Miss Helen Whiting all the facilities and employees of the bank.

Associated with Miss Whiting in this territory are Mrs. Malcolm Goodridge, Mrs. Herbert Taylor, Mrs. Edwin von Duhn and Mrs. Edwin Leaming.

Mrs. George Barton French, captain-in-charge at the Hotel McAlpin, reported early in the afternoon a sale of better than one new membership a minute.

Mrs. Herbert Nichols was the Captain in charge at the Public Library.

NAVY FOOD SALE NOW PLANNED HERE TO HIT HIGH PRICES

Dr. Day Says About $4,000,000 Worth Is to Be Offered to New York.

With the end of army food sales to the public schools, Commissioner of Public Markets Day announces to-day that he will soon start to sell $4,000,000 worth of navy foodstuffs, $1,000,000 more than the army foods sold.

The navy foods will be sold in small quantities to individual consumers and in larger quantities to consumers' groups. Dr. Day announced. They will be at prices considerably lower than those of the retail shops of the city. Dr. Day said, but not lower than the army foods.

Dr. Day has investigators going through the city to ascertain the prices at which the foods about to be put on sale are being sold. The supply of navy food is expected to last until Christmas.

The new food sales will be held in ten central stations, including one in the Municipal Building, another in the Queensboro Market at 59th Street and at least one centre in each borough.

The foods to be put on sale by the navy are:

STORM PURE FOOD SHOW TO GET "HANDOUTS"

Great Crowd Before Opening Seek Free Provisions in Samples Distributed.

Lured by the prospect of free food several hundred upon west side residents stormed the doors of the Pure Food Show, which is being held in the 12th Regiment Armory, Columbus Avenue and 42d Street, as early as 7 o'clock last night.

While exhibits of eatables were being installed in the large drill hall during the afternoon, some one who had read that samples were to be given away observed that at many of the booths were being handed out small quantities of the commodities advertised, and word quickly passed among poor people in the neighborhood that free food was being served.

Crowds collected shortly after seven, and in the rush that followed several persons gained admittance to the show. When it became known only small samples were being distributed, the demonstration died down, although the management was on the point of calling for police protection.

FOES PUT DICTOGRAPH IN OFFICE, HAZLETON SAYS

Judiciary Candidate in Queens Also Alleges His Telephone Wire Was Tapped.

That a dictograph was placed in his office and that his telephone wires had been tapped is the claim of Edgar F. Hazleton, Republican candidate for Justice of the Fourth District Municipal Court, Queens, upon whose charges of attempted bribery James F. Sullivan, editor of the Daily Long Island Farmer, of Jamaica, will be tried next Monday.

"Whoever entered my office to install that dictograph must have done so at night, and that constitutes burglary, even though nothing was stolen," said Mr. Hazleton last night. "I propose to find out who committed that crime and to prosecute to the full extent of the law. The Grand Jury will also probe the unlawful tapping of my telephone wires."

A search of Mr. Hazleton's offices in the Jamaica Post Office Building yesterday revealed, he said, that several holes had been bored in the wall and marks indicated that wires had been run through the holes. The first intimation that a dictograph had been used came Saturday, when John H. Merrill, attorney for Sullivan, began asking witnesses about conversations in Mr. Hazleton's office in which he thought they had participated. Mr. Hazleton intimated that tenants and employees in the building would be called before the Grand Jury.
